We have not moved in yet, so some of the questions can't be answered. We really have had a great experience!

Suzanne has been amazing. She is really invested in our project and it shows. We are building a much better house because of her. Frank is very committed to his business and our project and it gives us a lot of confidence that things will be done right.

We value this piece immensely. Frank's knowledge of these matters was extremely useful in the sales process and one of the major factors on which we made our decision. It makes us feel very good about the house we are building, esp for our children,

I think our situation may be a but unique given timing and transition back to design/build, but we are happy with the outcome!

Looks great now. I appreciate Frank raising this as an issue as this is something where we would be unable to judge the standard

Wickstead always kept following-up until we were satisfied. This is one of the areas where I was very impressed.

While there have been minor hiccups in communication related to the transition between design and construction, Wickstead has consistently for the most part made things right and the property is looking great. Based on the work so far, we would not hesitate to recommend Wickstead.

I have already recommended Wickstead to our financial advisor and have provided contact information.

Wickstead has been very clear that they want to meet our expectations and everyone has made a great effort to do anything it takes to satisfy us. The subcontractors (particularly stone and painting) have been excellent, and everyone on the project has been engaged and helpful, and all are easy to deal with. The work is high quality and very professional.

We remained in the home during the renovation, and it is not quite complete. However, Wickstead has created minimal disruption during the process.

The professionalism, communication, compassion, and attention to the final product are superb. David Cloak is a kind person in addition to being technically competent and creative in problem solving. He genuinely takes ownership of our project. I would not go into another project without he and Frank. Frank is also genuinely interested in making sure our concerns are handled promptly and professionally. He is fun be around and wants us to be happy -- even far after completion. We won't use anyone but Wickstead Works -- can't live without them!!!

The timeframe was exactly what they said it would be, also there were no surprises, everything was exactly as they said it would be. I have worked with contractors before and we usually laughed about "contractor time" which is far longer than real time. no so with Wickstead.

We are unique clients indeed, having used WicksteadWorks on two projects prior to the surveyed project, and we would use WicksteadWorks again...although I think we're set for a while now!

We renovated a pre-1900 home. Many surprises awaited us, and in every case a creative and architecturally accurate solution was found.

Everyone that works with Frank Wickstead is courteous and generous in time, expertise and ideas. The icing on the cake is an enthusiastic willingness to investigate various ideas, suppliers and solutions to result in the most efficient, finished and cost effective outcome. I am thrilled with the personalized and inclusive result of this renovation project!

We were very pleased with some of the technologies Wickstead brought to the job, such as icynene insulation and a Rinnai tankless water heater.
