These folks know what they are doing! They are ALL knowledgeable of every aspect of the construction business and have access to a host of contractors who are the best in their specialized fields. Everything that was fixed in my home was fixed right... all the way down to the cosmetic finished work was some of the the best work I'd ever seen. I would hire them again without hesitation!

Chris Lyons has been helping us through our home renovation, Chris has been consistent, has kept the schedule ahead, has been honest & forthright with our expectations & has accommodated small concerns and other requests. Chris has been easy to communicate with & is very easy to reach, as well as returning calls/emails. Chris has proven to be honest, trustworthy, and more than willing to understand how difficult being out of our home is. Chris helped me make better choices that proved his knowledge and experience throughout this project. I am dealing with a large company that easily makes me feel like a priority customer. Amy has helped me with confusing paperwork, and navigating through the claim process, I could not have done it without Amy's help! We were not misled on timing & are still on track to move back home on the date promised. I will say that Chris Lyons has gone above & beyond to make my home look the way I anticipated. The project isn't complete just yet, but I feel confident that communication will continue positively until it is. I appreciate what is being done for me & my kids to return home after a long, stressful summer of not having a home.

On behalf of the Town of Plymouth, we are very pleased with the recent work performed at Memorial Hall. The Memorial Hall events center is one of the crown jewels of downtown Plymouth. Rebuildex maintained a tight schedule, surveyed the traffic and public safety concerns of the adjacent neighbors, cleaned the interior of the building to ensure the building could quickly be open to public events, consulted with OSHA representatives prior to the project start date to address any potential safety concerns, and finally, performed the work seamlessly. As Facility Manager for the town, I would have no problem recommending Rebuildex for any project, large or small.

The RebuildEx team, and Adam Shurtleff in particular, were a pleasure to deal with from end to end. The quality of the work, the management of the project and the teams they brought in were all excellent. They did a great job, stuck to the promised timeline and kept us informed along the way. I would definitely work with them again and recommend them to others.
