My ceiling was damaged during the replacement of my roof. The repair was $425.00 they would only allow $250.00. The balance was out of my pocket.

If you go with Mr. Roof, make sure to find someone else - not Kyle or Ryan. I don't know why they have their phone in their pocket because they don't answer.

The day before the scheduled install date, I received a call from the salesman saying that many of the things that we had agreed to and I signed a contract for were not available to me, such as the 50 year warranty, the guarantee that my utility costs would go down by 20% etc. The salesman should have known what was available for each type of install and house type. I also had troubles with getting the reduced price that we had agreed to because of the changes to the contract. I repeatedly got statements showing the original price for several weeks after the install was done.

I would not recommend Mr. Roof as they caused a damage to my ceiling while repairing the roof and were non-communicative and did not want to repair the damage caused.

Mr. Roof was very professional and kind through the roofing process. As a female, they made me feel comfortable and knowledgeable and never once spoke down to me. They were on-time to their appointments and never tried to take advantage of me. I have suggested Mr. Roof to my neighbors and friends and each one decided to use Mr. Roof and had the exact same positive experience as I did. I would highly recommend Mr. Roof, every single time!

Although Mr. Roof was friendly, I believe they were just about making a quick sale. I felt that I was lied to about a number of things and I wouldn't trust this company. They also left behind trash and made a big mess in my attic when I specifically asked if I needed to cover my personal belongings in the attic (I was told no, there wouldn't be anything to worry about).
